THE CHALLENGE

Adult caregiving often remains invisible until career momentum begins to slip. Employees continue performing, but the strain can lead to delayed decisions, reduced participation, and disengagement from professional growth.

THE JPR DIFFERENCE

JPR focuses on the career side of caregiving: helping employees maintain footing, protect capacity, make intentional decisions, and engage early before momentum is lost.

Why Traditional Caregiver Support Isn't Enough

Most caregiver support focuses on caring for the loved one. JPR focuses on helping the professional behind the caregiver role maintain career footing, professional contribution, and long-term career continuity.
